Your Ooly has arrived. now what?

The Ooly app is currently going through a facelift, with a new app being launched in the near future. Because of this, some of the set up instructions in the manual have changed.

Download the Ooly app from the App Store, or if using Android, download the app from the link under "more information" on the Ooly product page at www.shopsnooze.co.nz/products/ooly

SKIP the "create an account" step (this has been disabled while the facelift app is being built)

Wait for the app to locate your Ooly, then tap OOLY - followed by a serial number - to pair with your phone.

Click CANCEL when given the option to use the sample schedule.

From there, create your very own, personalised schedule for your child by clicking the + button at the top right of the screen and adding each step in the routine.

To allow your child to choose a different colour than the options show for their wakeup colour, toggle the "disable blue light" off, this will give the full range of the colour spectrum when clicking the + button.

Ensure you click the TICK in the top right corner to save each change!
